Film Feature at McLeansboro for Disneyland Program

I HAVE COMPETITION up here. You remember the big strawberry I got from Galatia?

I didn't take it home after all. Got to looking at the luscious creature here on my desk and started eating on it.

Guess I started nibbling and chewing around 3:30 p. m. and by 4 p. m. I was through.

But the Classified advertising department informs me through an office memorandum that C. S. Perry brought in a whole box full of "bigger than Galatia" berries and presented them to the Classified advertising department. It was all in gratitude, apparently because Mr. Perry sold 40 boxes of berries through a Register Classified, which I do not doubt. Only thing I have doubt about is that they were "bigger than Galatia" strawberries. I can be convinced, however, because seeing is believing. Only I ain't seen yet.

DOINGS NEAR SULPHUR SPRINGS: Arthur Stricklin, son of Myrtle Stricklin of near West Sulphur Springs, killed a rattlesnake that was five feet long, nine inches around, and had 15 rattles and a button. It was killed at the Myrtle Stricklin home, which is well-known as the Temple Aydelott farm.

DISNEYLAND: Those fantastic, enlightening and enriching Disneyland programs which we can see on television right here in Harrisburg are going to have a Hamilton county locale before too long.

The Lancer Productions are in McLeansboro this week shooting a five-reel featurette for Walt Disney's Disneyland program, carried on the ABC-TV network.

Hal Ramser and Larry Lansburgh, co-producers, who are at McLeansboro, announced that a special sheep dog trial will be held on the Arthur Allen farm on the Blairsville road at 1 p. m. Saturday, which is today, and that the trial will be filmed for the picture. In event of rain the trials will be filmed Sunday.

Hundreds from this area have seen Allen's border collies perform at the Salk county fair in their sheep dog trials.

Bobbie Evans, 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Evans of McLeansboro, has been selected to appear in the film, which is the story of a boy and his dog. The producers visited schools in McLeansboro and Fairfield looking over the boys before announcing that young Evans had been given the role.

Plans are to show one of the five reels each week on Disneyland.

Arthur Allen's world-famous border collies are featured in a moving picture, "Arizona Sheep Dog," which was given a special preview at the McLean theatre in McLeansboro Wednesday and Thursday night.

Sen. Jones Sponsors Korean Bonus Bill; Passage Recommended

State Senator Glen O. Jones of Raleigh is sponsor of a Korean veterans bonus bill that has been reported out by the Senate Committee on Military Affairs with a recommendation for passage.

The measure, Senate Bill 504, calls for $10 for each month of domestic service and $15 for each month of foreign service between June 26, 1950, and July 26, 1953. Funds would come from race track receipts and the state cigarette tax, which already is in operation.

The bill, if passed by the senate, would go to the house. A statewide referendum then would be necessary before the bonus could be paid. The referendum probably would be held in November, 1956.

Williamson County Airport Seeks State Aid for New Runway

SPRINGFIELD (UP)—Gov. William G. Stratton Friday promised a Williamson County Airport Authority delegation he will refer its request for state aid for a new runway to the Department of Aeronautics.

The airport's present runway is built at a 90 degree angle to prevailing winds, with the result that the airport has a record of about 10 per cent overflights, or cases of airliners being unable to land. The Civil Aeronautics Authority in Washington told the airport authority the federal government will supply 50 per cent of the needed money if the state and local authorities provide 25 per cent each.

Molotov Joins West Envoys for Treaty Signing

Brings Acceptance From Bulganin for Big Four Meeting

VIENNA, Austria (UP)—Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov has brought to the Vienna foreign ministers' meeting Premier Nikolai Bulganin's "acceptance in principle" of a summer parley with Western heads of state, informed sources said today.

Molotov flew from Warsaw to sign an Austrian state treaty with the foreign ministers of the United States, Britain, France and Austria and discuss the proposed top-level meeting.

"Austria will be restored as an independent and sovereign state," Molotov said on his arrival. "This will lead to the safeguarding of peace in Europe."

High diplomatic sources said Molotov probably would tender Bulganin's "acceptance in principle" to meet President Eisenhower, British Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden and French Premier Edgar Faure. Molotov is willing to discuss the time and place for such a meeting, the sources added.

Pledge Not Binding

The Soviet leader probably will not bind Russia formally to such details, however, since the Kremlin still has not replied officially to Western invitations of last Tuesday in which the top-level meeting was broached, the sources said.

Tonight the ministers and their aides will be guests of Secretary of State John Foster Dulles at a formal dinner at the American Embassy when they will discuss a possible summer meeting of the Big Four heads of government.

The West was said to believe Molotov might announce some major shift in Soviet policy in keeping with Moscow's new "soft line" that followed ratification of the Paris treaties to rearm West Germany. But there was no official inkling what it might be.

One possible clue came from Moscow. A United Press dispatch said foreign observers expected Moscow to propose a "rapid and conclusive offer" to reunify Germany in exchange for ironclad guarantees of neutrality as provided in the Austrian treaty.

Dulles, British Foreign Secretary Harold MacMillan and French Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay arrived in Vienna Friday from Paris and were cheered by crowds happy over the Sunday treaty signing and the end of ten years of occupation.

Aerial Rocket Blast Kills 3 At Fort Bliss

EL PASO, Tex. (UP)—A board of officers today investigated a blast which killed three men and seriously injured three others. It appeared the accident was caused by an acetylene torch igniting a propellant charge.

The aerial rocket was being dismantled Friday at Fort Bliss when it suddenly zoomed out a window and exploded.

In the resulting confusion, the acetylene torch being used to cut up the small, outmoded experimental rocket was dropped. The tank containing the fuel was turned over and exploded.

The Army said Pvt. William J. Harrison, 22, of Cambridge, Md., and Pvt. Myron A. Baxter, 22, of Allentown, Pa., died later of injuries. Others injured were Pvt. William F. Underhill, 19, Hollywood, Fla.; Pvt. Ralph Watson, 20, of Smithfield, N. C., and Pfc. Wilfred A. Wassenberg, 24, of Marysville, Kan. They were recovering at William Beaumont Army Hospital.

The three injured men and Martin were outside the building, working on a 40-millimeter multiple gun carriage, when the rocket sped out the window in a shower of sparks.

Maj. Robert Kline said the rocket apparently struck Harrison and that Baxter was killed by fragments from the rocket and the exploding fuel tank.

Kline said Harrison and Baxter were dismantling the rocket, and that the torch apparently burned into a propellant charge that had not been removed.

2-Day Rainfall Totals 2.35 Inches

Rainfall in Harrisburg between 7 a. m. yesterday and 7 a. m. today measured 1.04 inches, which added to the 1.31 inches that fell the day before makes a total of 2.35 inches of precipitation here during the past 48 hours.

At Galatia the rainfall was less. During the past 24 hours it measured .65 inch. For the 24-hour period ending at 7 a. m. yesterday it was .64 inch, making the 48-hour total 1.29 inches.

The city reservoirs are more than full now, following pumping from Middle Fork. The pumps were started at 2:15 p. m. yesterday and they continued until 8 a. m. today, when the gauge showed the north reservoir was one inch over the full mark. No water has been used out of the south reservoir since it was filled several weeks ago.

Woman Government Worker Fatally Shot In Street; Young 'Gun Fancier' Held

RALEIGH, N. C. (UP)—A youthful "gun fancier" was charged with murder today in the sniper shooting of a woman government worker from the window of his hotel.

Richard Kluckhohn, 21, admitted after prolonged questioning Friday night that he "shot from the window of the hotel" with a flashy German luger equipped with target-type sights. But he refused to say any more, police said.

Kluckhohn, who gave his address as that of an Evanston, Ill., publishing firm, was accused of killing Miss Bernice Seawell, 43, of Arlington, Va., an employee of the Veterans Administration in Washington, as she stood in the rain Friday across from the Sir Walter Hotel.

Congressman Warns of Russia's Advances in Intercontinental Bombers

By United Press

A congressional air power specialist said today that Russia may have more intercontinental jet bombers than the United States and warned against discounting Soviet technology.

Rep. George H. Mahon (D-Tex.) chairman of a House subcommittee on Air Force appropriations, said the government's disclosure Friday of major Russian air power advances shows that in any event "we are not as far ahead as we thought."

The Defense Department disclosed in a brief statement that "parade formations" of a heavy bomber comparable in size to the American B-52 flew over Moscow in late April. The department also said Russia now has an all-weather jet interceptor.

Meantime, the Navy told Congress it has a big seaplane with range and speed rivaling land-based aircraft and is working on an atomic-powered seaplane.

Rear Adm. F. R. Furth, chief of naval research, in testimony before a Senate appropriations subcommittee, said a new Navy swept-wing, jet-powered seaplane "could be based in bays or lagoons near theaters of war and be supported by submarine or seaplane tenders."

Other congressional news:

Vaccine: Sen. Wayne L. Morse (D-Ore.) introduced a bill providing that the federal government pay all hospital and medical expenses of children contracting polio after taking Salk vaccine shots.

Private Bills: The Senate Friday passed more than 70 so-called private bills. These are measures which grant special relief to individuals, many of them aliens who face deportation because they have violated some law but can claim mitigating circumstances.

Treaty: Chairman Walter F. George (D-Ga.) of the Senate Foreign Relations committee said he expects the Senate to act "fairly promptly" on the Austrian peace treaty after it is submitted by President Eisenhower.

Wheat: Sen. Milton R. Young (R-ND) said he will urge wheat farmers to vote for marketing quotas on their 1956 crop in the referendum ordered Friday by Agriculture Secretary Ezra T. Benson.

Employees: Sens. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont) and Mike Monroney (D-Okla.) said they will fight a provision in the President's foreign aid bill permitting the firing of hundreds of employees in the Foreign Operations Administration. It would authorize the ouster of any employees of the expiring FOA who make more than about $5,200 a year.

Bulganin and Krushchev to Head Mission

Will Seek to Heal 1948 Breach with Yugoslavia Ruler

MOSCOW (UP)—Communist Party Leader Nikita S. Khrushchev and Premier Nikolai Bulganin will head a Soviet peace mission to Yugoslavia this month to try to heal the 1948 breach between Marshal Tito and the Cominform, it was announced today.

The official government newspaper Izvestia announced the Soviet-Yugoslav meeting "at the summit" and said the meeting would be held at the end of May with the aim of "further improving relations between the two countries and strengthening the peace."

The announcement coincided with a series of major international developments:

1. Soviet Foreign Minister Vyacheslav M. Molotov flew to Vienna today to sign an Austrian state treaty Sunday with the Western Big Three and to discuss plans for a Big Four meeting of the heads of government.

Anti-German Agreement

2. The Soviet Union and seven other East European Communist nations agreed to unite their massive armies under a single command against the dangers of a rearmament West Germany.

3. Foreign observers said the Soviet government may be planning a rapid and conclusive offer to reunify Germany in exchange for ironclad guarantees of neutrality similar to those given by Austria under the state treaty.

Izvestia said the decision to send a top Soviet delegation to Yugoslavia was made after meetings between Soviet and Yugoslav diplomats. It was believed the meetings took place in Moscow, possibly between Yugoslav Ambassador Dobrovic Vidic and leading Soviet leaders.

The Yugoslav delegation will be headed by Tito himself.

The Soviet move followed more than a year of gradual "normalization" of relations between the two countries following Tito's break with the Soviet Union. Informal sources said the major initiative for the meeting had been taken by the Soviets.

Split in 1948

Marshal Tito broke with the late Soviet Premier Josef Stalin in 1948 when Tito refused to become completely subservient to Moscow. The Cominform—the Moscow-dominated association of Communist states known as the Communist Information Bureau—expelled Tito the same year.

Tito was charged with "deviation from the true Communist policies laid down by Marx and Lenin." The Communist countries quit trading with Yugoslavia and the situation grew worse.

The United States actively exploited the break, and Yugoslavia swung closer to the western camp, according to western aid and joining an alliance with Greece and Turkey, both members of NATO.

With the death of Stalin the situation changed overnight. By last November, the late Maxim A. Saburov, a deputy premier, proposed that normal relations be established between the two countries. Last October the two nations resumed trade relations. Tito himself had hinted relations might be resumed both economically and politically.

Unemployment Shows Decline

WASHINGTON (UP)—Unemployment declined during the last week of April to the second lowest level for any week since mid-December, 1953, the Labor Department reported today.

The department said the number of persons receiving unemployment compensation for the week ended April 30 declined by 74,700 to 1,399,600 and was widespread with 45 states reporting reductions.

Contributing factors to the decline, the department said, were the settling of a labor dispute in the textile industry and claimants exhausted benefit rights.

The largest declines during the last week in April were in Pennsylvania, Illinois, Minnesota, California and New York.

Wheat Vote Set for June 25

WASHINGTON UP—Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson today set June 25 as the date for a national referendum among wheat growers on whether marketing quotas should be placed in effect on the 1956 crop.

Benson said the quotas will be based on a national wheat acreage allotment of 55 million acres—the level specified by law under present conditions. It is the same allotment in effect for this year.

Benson said a national average support price for 1956 production would be determined and announced before the wheat referendum.

The present wheat crop now is supported at a price of 82½ per cent of parity.

If growers approve the marketing quota, producers in commercial wheat states who stay within the acreage allotted for their farms will be eligible for the full level of price support. Such producers who do not comply with their allotments will not be eligible for price support and will be subject to marketing penalties on their excess wheat.

If quotas are not approved by the law provides for a wheat price support level at 50 per cent of parity for producers who stay within their acreage allotments. If quotas are voted out, farmers can exceed allotments without being subject to quota penalties.

tal city in the United States.

SIU Country Column

By Albert Meyer
Farmers need to be thinking about hay crop silage. This is the season when there is likely to be a surplus of grass and legumes from improved pastures and meadows. The best agricultural advice is to save it for feeding later in the summer when pastures get short.

Trench silos are gaining increased attention among farmers for storing silage. They are not a new idea but they still have enough newness to be subject to many adaptations. They may be a hillside trench or may be semi-trench type with supporting horizontal walls partly above ground. Not enough of them are in use, however. In fact, not enough area farmers with livestock herds have realized the value of conserving surplus pasture crops in the form of grass silage.

Some of the advantages of the trench silo are evident. They are relatively inexpensive as compared to upright silos. Their capacity is great and the filling operation can be simplified by the use of farm machinery. They are adaptable to self-feeding, greatly reducing feeding chores—particularly for farmers with beef herds.

Eight hours of bulldozing will gouge out a satisfactory dirt trench silo in a barnyard slope, a silo that will hold from 200 to 300 tons of chopped silage. Such all-dirt trenches will may serve for three or four years until improvements may be made in them to better serve the feeding program. One difficulty with a trench silo having a dirt floor is that the farmer must remove the silage by hand or with a tractor highlift, and feed in bunkers or some similar arrangement in the feeding lot.

For self-feeding a concrete floor is needed in the trench. A minimum thickness is four inches of good concrete—a three-two-one mixture—is recommended for the floor because it must stand up under the weight of tractors used in packing the silage and of the cattle feeding on the silage. Outward sloping walls of concrete or cement blocks are desirable but may be added later as the farmer feels he has a few dollars to invest.

Sloping the walls outward—at least a foot on each side—lessens the danger of water pressure in the soil weakening the wall and also aids tighter sealing of the silage as it is packed down and settling.
Floors of trench silos need to slope toward the downhill opening at the rate of at least 12 inches per 100 feet of length so as to permit drainage.

The value of the hay crop silage, of course, depends on the quality of the grass and legumes that are chopped and put into it. Good silage just doesn't come out of poor hay crops.

Other considerations in filling a trench silo and getting the best results are: cutting the crops at the right moisture content—about 60 to 70 per cent; filling the trench fairly rapidly (don't put in a foot or two of silage every week or two); and doing a good job of packing. If one available cutting of crops is insufficient to fill the entire trench the farmer best may fill one section, beginning at the head end and filling additional sections with later crops.

A good job of compacting the silage is essential to cutting down on spoilage. Preservatives need not be used with silage from grass cut at the right stage and properly packed. However, some kind of preservative—either chemical, sugars, or ground grain—will be an insurance against spoilage.

SOMEONE REALLY LAID AN EGG!—One of C. W. Knittle's hens can be mighty proud of laying the egg at left. Broken open, the oversized egg yielded not only a normal white and yolk, but also another complete egg of normal size. Trouble is, Knittle, of Bethel, Kan., doesn't know which hen laid it. At right is an average sized egg.

TRENCH SILO AT THE DIXON SPRINGS EXPERIMENT FARM—This type silo is said to be much less expensive to construct than the upright silo and also easier to use—both in filling and getting the silage out to use as feed. The trench silo at Dixon Springs is 260 feet long, 16 feet deep and 13 feet wide at the bottom and will hold 1,000 tons of silage. The walls of a trench silo must slope from top to bottom, so the silage will pack tight and also must be built to provide for water drainage. If water and air are kept from the silage it will stay good as a feed for years, members of the Dixon Springs Experiment Farm staff state. This silo has concrete sides and bottom. An earthen silo will keep silage as well as a concrete one, it is said, but earthen walls tend to cave in. (Register Staff Photo)

Illinois Population Growing, Changing

A few more people are living in the country today than were there in 1920, but only about three-fourths as many are farming. This is one of the main shifts that has taken place in Illinois population.

In 1920 Illinois had more than a million farm people, who made up a sixth of the total population.
By 1950 the number had dropped to about 750,000, and the proportion had dropped to one-twelfth.

Country dwellers who did not farm, on the other hand, increased in number—from just under a million in 1920 to nearly a million and a half in 1950. This group makes up about a sixth of the state's population, just a little larger share than in 1920. Farm and rural nonfarm groups were about the same size in 1920. Today the nonfarm group is twice as big as its country neighbor.

C. L. Folse, University of Illinois rural sociologist who reports these figures, says the most rapid change took place in the last ten years of the 30-year period. He believes the trend has continued even faster since 1950.

Farm population declined 20 per cent in the 1940's alone. In Pope county the loss reached as high as 40 per cent. In Boone county it was only 5 per cent. In the same period, rural nonfarm population went up 30 per cent.

Most of the increase has taken place on the edges of the big cities. But Folse says this doesn't explain all of the shift. Many people are moving into the open country, a long way from the city, and many counties that have no industrial centers are getting an increase in rural nonfarm people.

Virginia.

More Reason To Comply With Corn Allotments This Year

URBANA—Illinois farmers who can raise either corn or soybeans have more reason to comply with corn acreage allotments this year than last, according to a farm economist at the University of Illinois.

P. E. Johnston explains that if you don't stay within corn acreage allotments, you can't put your corn under loan. So the question is what will corn be worth on the open market compared with what soybeans on the same ground would be worth.

This year the price relationship between corn and soybeans favors staying within allotments for corn and putting diverted acres to soybeans.

If you have 80-bushel corn land, you can normally expect it to grow 30 bushels of soybeans. You can make the same net income from 30-bushel soybeans at $2.04 a bushel as from 80-bushel corn at $1.40.
Most experts, Johnston says, think $1.40 is all you can expect from corn in the open markets.

If you can get 35-bushel soybeans, they have to bring only $1.77. Of course, Johnston says, if you expect higher soybean prices or lower corn prices, you would be that much better off with soybeans.

Sixty-bushel corn selling at $1.40 a bushel gives the same net income as you would get from 30-bushel soybeans at $1.57, 25-bushel soybeans at $1.84 or 20-bushel soybeans at $2.27.

Forty-bushel corn worth $1.40 a bushel will return the same as 25-bushel soybeans at $1.57, 25-bushel soybeans at $1.57 or 15-bushel
soybeans at $2.04.

You can still lose calves from abortion in brucellosis-free herds from an attack of leptospirosis, a relatively new cattle disease that is hard to find except through a blood test.

Winter rye will make fairly good silage this summer if you cut it in the dough or slightly milky stage, says a University of Illinois dairy specialist.

THIS WEEK AT Dixon Springs

University of Illinois Experiment Station

(A round-up of the week's work, activities, and observations at the University of Illinois Dixon Springs Experiment Station near Robbs in southern Illinois, prepared by the Station's staff.)

Lambs Prefer Whole Oats And Soybean Oil Meal

Lambs at Dixon Springs showed a preference for whole oats over other grains used in a palatability trial. The order of preference was whole oats, ground shelled corn, rolled oats and corn and cob meal.
The order of preference for protein supplements was soybean oil meal, soybean oil meal pellets, linseed oil meal and cotton seed oil meal.

Administration Building Lawn Made More Attractive

For years neither time nor personnel were available to dress up the lawns and shrubbery around the administration building. Now boys of the Shawnee State Boys camp located on the Station are diligently mowing and trimming the lawn and planting flower beds around the building to make the place more attractive. Under the direct supervision of the Illinois Youth Commission, boys in this camp are being rehabilitated to become useful members of our society.

Calving Season Nearly Complete

George Cmarik, Station researcher, reports that calving is nearly complete in the Station herd of about 300 cows. Pastures are excellent, and the white-faced calves against the deep green of rolling pastures make a most pleasing sight.

Sheep Selected for Sale

About 45 yearling Suffolk, Hampshire and Targhee rams and ewes have been selected for the annual sheep sale to be held on July 14 this year.

Still Plowing for Corn

Recent rains have slowed up plowing, but it is surprising how soon some of the better pasture sods are ready to work. An excellent fescue-Ladino clover mixture on what is known as the Barger bottom has been plowed, to the disgust of John Bailey, chief plow-er. John objected to plowing this up for corn, thinking it was too good. On the other hand, he admits that it should make a good corn crop. The root concentration is so great in the plowed layer that the physical condition of the soil can't help being good.

Grass Silage or Hay?

W. G. Kammlade, chairman of the Dixon Springs Committee, in a recent talk reminded us of the value of grass silage. "A standing crop of forage has so much feeding value. Making it into silage does not mysteriously increase the nutrients or feeding value contained in the standing crop. Whether it is made into silage or hay, it will lose some feeding value. The question is which method of handling will conserve the most of this value. With the usual harvesting methods, we save more of the feeding value in silage. The dollars are in the leaves."

Cobden High School Visit

The Ag boys from Cobden high school are early risers. They arrived at the Station about 6 o'clock one morning recently, routed out Jack Lewis, Doc Mansfield, and Bob Webb and judged two rings of sheep and one ring of cattle before breakfast. These boys are bound to get ahead if there is anything in the old adage about the early bird getting the worm.

A University of Illinois study shows that three-fourths of all baby pig deaths occur during the first week of their lives.

If you used your farm tractor very much this past winter, you'll need to repack the front wheel bearings with good-quality grease.

Find Meat-Type Hogs in All Breeds

Meat-type hogs are where you find them, says G. R. Carlisle, extension livestock specialist at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture. And you can find them in all breeds.

Carlisle says the first step in producing meat-type hogs on your own farm is to carefully select the longer, meatier gilts in your herd each year for replacement sows.
Then buy the best type of boar you can find in either the same or any other breed.

Walter Schlichting and Sons, Apple River, breeders and feeders of the grand champion carload of barrows at last year's International Livestock Exposition, have shown the way to breed better hogs. They also showed the champion loads of barrows at the International in 1947 and 1948.

Carlisle points out that there was a great difference between this year's load and the loads that had won previously for the Schlichtings.
This year's barrows were much leaner, trimmer and meatier than the 1947 and 1948 winners.

The Schlichtings won with the same breed, but they had been selecting the largest, longest gilts in their herd each year and then buying the best meat-type boar they could find in the same breed as the gilts.

And a summary of the kill report on carcass barrows made at the 1954 National Barrow Show by Dick Hollandbeck, also an extension livestock specialist at the University of Illinois, shows more difference in length and backfat thickness within breeds than between breeds.

Texas leads all state in railway mileage with a total of 16,473 miles.

Three Local Women Attend Illinois Council of Church Women at Kewanee

Three members of the local Council of Church Women attended the annual Illinois Council at Kewanee, May 11 and 12. The president of the local group, Miss Bess Pemberton, and the corresponding secretary, Mrs. Zola Sloan, together with Mrs. Sloan's mother, Mrs. Carrie Young, comprised the Harrisburg group.

They had the distinction of being pointed out at the luncheon as the delegates who had come the farthest, 301 miles, to Kewanee, "the hog capitol of the world."

Highlights of the council were the addresses of Mrs. David Baker, editor of the "Church Woman" of New York, who in a team of four women made a good will tour of the Pacific islands, Indonesia, India and Germany. She stated "The wonderful way in which the Christian women of those lands, hungry for contacts, received this mission of Christian America, was impressive. The team was able to contact the church of the Russian sector of Germany by a good deal of strategy used to bring a key woman to the west sector. And the same German woman will come as a delegate to the National Council of Church Women to be held in Cleveland Nov. 6 and 7. She thought this would never be possible but the promise of her visa has been given." Delegates from every country visited are expected at the Cleveland Council. A husband in India promised the $1200 necessary to send his wife to the United States.

One of the most impressive messages during the council was that of a modest, well educated Negro evangelist and a pastor's assistant of Kewanee, Miss Dorothy Thorpe. She was one of eleven Negro delegates present.

"What I am is God's Gift to Me; What I Become is My Gift to God," was a thought expressed by a main speaker, Mrs. Charles MacDonnell.

Soldiers for Jesus

The Soldiers for Jesus class of the Morrisville Social Brethren church had a chicken supper Thursday evening in the church basement.

A prayer of thanks was offered by the pastor, Rev. Tommy Guest. Mrs. Alice Wilson and Mrs. Anna-belle Bennett planned the menu for a modest, well educated Negro evangelist and a pastor's assistant of Kewanee, Miss Dorothy Thorpe. She was one of eleven Negro delegates present.

Rev. Clifford Bennett opened the meeting with prayer. It was agreed that the class should try to be well represented at the coming youth rally, homecoming and baptism, all of which take place during the month of May.

It was decided to have a picnic next month, the weather permitting. Arthur Holland dismissed the group with prayer.

Games were conducted by Mrs. Myers and Rev. and Mrs. Bennett with Mr. and Mrs. Leighman Walker and Rev. Guest winning prizes. Those attending other than ones mentioned were Mrs. Frances Holland, Shirley Bennett, Gary Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Fred McGhee and Debra, Gene Wilson and sons, Harold and Denny, Mr. and Mrs. Louie Sweet and sons, Gary and Steven, Mrs. Shirley Guest and Timmy.

First Baptist Irma

The Irma Franks circle of the First Baptist church held its May meeting at the home of Mrs. Stella McNulty with seven members present.

Those attending were Mrs. Ethel Dunn, Mrs. Lizzie Sisk, Mrs. Alta Williams, Mrs. J. B. Moore, Mrs. Della Greer and Mrs. Wanda Lane. The meeting opened with prayer by Mrs. Alta Williams and with the duet, "Wonderful Words of Life" by Mrs. Greer and Mrs. McNulty. Mrs. Williams also gave the devotion taken from 1 Tim. 4:13.

Topics were presented by Mrs. Greer, Mrs. Sisk and Mrs. Dunn. Closing prayer was by Mrs. Lane. The June meeting will be an all day gathering at the country home of Mrs. Orval Dean.

Refreshments consisted of ice cream with strawberries and cookies.

Rev. and Mrs. J. D. McCarty and son, Billy Joe, will leave Sunday following the morning worship service at the McKinley Avenue Baptist church, where he is pastor, for Miami, to attend the 78th session of the Southern Baptist Convention. They will return to Harrisburg Monday, May 23. Making the trip with them will be Mrs. McCarty's mother, Mrs. Madge Flenner, member of the First Baptist church of Energy.

"INSURANCE-WISE"

by
BILL GHENT

"PAT" MALONE IS ACE ADJUSTER

Today it was my privilege to have lunch with Pat Malone. Unless you've had a fire or windstorm loss within the last few years you probably don't know Pat, but if you have you will understand what I mean when I say that he is one of the finest men, and without question one of the best adjusters who ever read the fine print in a fire insurance policy.

You know Pat is a "Local Agent's" adjuster. He doesn't work for any insurance company but rather is employed by the Western Adjustment and Inspection Company. Local Agents from this territory may or may not refer their losses to him for adjustment. However, since he is a real good adjuster, all of the bona fide Local Agents do use him.

As usual, when we were about half way through our corned beef and cabbage, the conversation turned to insurance. We were discussing the new "All Risk" type of coverage for dwellings which is now being written by the Robertson-Ghent Agency. I explained that since this was an "All Risk" coverage subject to certain exclusions, our entire office force had memorized the exclusions verbatim so we would be able to give our customers real superservice when a loss occurred.

Well, I didn't more than get the words out of my mouth when Pat said, "You say you know 'em by memory?" I replied, "Sure enough!" Then, reaching into his inside coat pocket, he said, "I just happen to have one of those new 'All Risk' forms with me, do you think you could repeat them?" Isn't it amazing the trouble one can get into by talking instead of listening? I had to repeat them while he checked them off. Mean-while, my corned beef got colder and colder!

In conclusion I might say that Pat gave me a passing grade and also further convinced me that he knows his business. If you have a loss you'll be lucky to have a "Local Agent" to refer it to Pat for adjustment.

Cashier Gets Token Sentence For Misusing Funds

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — A bank cashier who said he was "a very foolish man," was freed from his token one-day jail sentence to day after he testified he made irregular loans to help finance his Boy Scout work.

Frank J. Acardi, 37, Collinsville, Ill., pleaded guilty Friday to making false entries in the books of the Troy Security Bank to cover the loans.

"I have been a very foolish man," he told Federal Judge Charles G. Briggle. "Whatever may come will be the best for me."

Federal officials said Acardi borrowed about $5,000, leaving a personal note to cover the loans.

"Much of the proceeds," officials said, were used to help the community Boy Scout program. When the loans which were made without bank officers' knowledge were discovered, Acardi made restitution immediately, the government said.

Soviet Fleet Passes Denmark

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP) — A mystery fleet of two Soviet cruisers and four destroyers passed the northernmost tip of Denmark early today, heading toward the north-west and the open sea.

Naval sources said the course of the Russian squadron indicated the vessels probably were en route to maneuvers in the North Atlantic but there was speculation also the gray warships were heading for the Soviet Arctic naval base at Murmansk.

Doubt Tito Will Repudiate Ties with West

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) — Observers doubted today the visit by the top-level Soviet "peace" mission would cause Marshal Tito to repudiate Yugoslavia's ties with the West.

Soviet Communist Party boss Nikita Khrushchev and Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin will head the star-studded delegation coming to Belgrade from Moscow later this month in an effort to woo Yugoslavia back into the Soviet fold.

The news of the forthcoming visit was frontpaged in all Belgrade newspapers and reported in the morning newscasts. The official Yugoslav newspaper Borda said the meeting would provide an opportunity "to resolve all outstanding questions between the USSR and Yugoslavia and thus, contribute to better relations, peaceful co-existence and world peace."

But Yugoslavs who heard or read of the visit were quick to recall the bitter memories of the five years of cold war "blockade" which followed the break with the Cominform. Some admittedly were concerned about the possible consequences, but western sources had little doubt all Yugoslavs received the news with a touch of pride.

The visit is not expected to make any essential change in Yugoslavia's present policy.

The friendship with the West, especially with the United States, has been emphasized more than usual in recent weeks. More and more friendly articles have appeared in the press than for some time past. Only Friday, full and grateful publicity was given to the latest agreement by the U. S. to provide still another 280,000 tons of wheat to Yugoslavia.

Eldorado Finishes Third in District Meet; Beal Wins Two Seconds

Murphysboro Is Winner with Benton Second

Murphysboro—as expected—took top honors in the district track and field meet held at SIU stadium, Carbondale, Friday. The speedy Red Devils ran up a total of 30.19 points in taking the district championship.

Benton finished in second place and Eldorado was third. Harrisburg tied with Mounds Douglas for 9th spot. Twenty-six schools participated.

Tony Beal placed second in both the shot put and discus to account for Harrisburg's eight points.

Eldorado's Lovellette picked up the only first by a Saline county entrant when he hurled the discus 142.8. Beal's second place effort was 139.1.

Beal put the shot 47-11 3/4 to finish second to Hamilton of Her- rington, with a heave of 48-10. Lovellette of Eldorado was third with a distance of 46-10 1/4.

Willis Second in Mile

Eldorado's other point gatherers were Dodd, who ran the 220 in 23.8 for fourth (winning time was 22.7); Willis second in the mile in 4:39.6; Wright in a 9-way tie for second in the high jump, failing at 5-10; second in the 880-yard varsity relay at 1:36.2, with Dodd, Dempsey, Sutton and Lane running; fourth in the mile relay at 3:38.6 with Sutton, Lane, Dempsey and Watson running.

Allison of Murphysboro took first in both the 100 and 220 yard dashes, to be the meet's only double winner. Murphysboro also took first spot in both relays, setting a new record in the mile relay by covering the distance in 3:36.5. The old record was 3:37.8, set by Mounds Douglas in 1953.

The mile run was one of the best races of the night as Willis of Eldorado and Kabat of Waltonville matched strides from start to finish, with Kabat the winner by a "nose." He was timed at 4:39.5 and Willis in second place was timed at 4:39.6.

State Meet Next Week End

Willis, undefeated this season going into the district, stepped out in front at the start, trailed by Kabat. There was never more than a couple of yards separating the two—with Willis always in front—then in the final 220 yards both came up with a fine "kick," sprinting down the stretch neck-and-neck, with Kabat pushing out in the final few yards to win by inches.

This was the second time these two had battled all the way, with Willis the winner previously. At the Hurst-Bush Mineral Area track meet back in April Willis was the winner, timed at 4:46.8 and Kabat was in second place with a time of 4:46.9.

The state meet will be held at the University of Illinois next week end. All first and second place finishers in district competition are eligible for the state. Beal will represent Harrisburg in his two specialties, the discus and shot.

Team Points

Eldorado Coach Al Adams will take seven boys up state—Lovellette in the discus, Willis in the mile, Wright for the high jump and the 880-yard relay team of Dodd, Dempsey, Lane and Sutton.

Points by team:

Murphysboro, 30 1/2.
Benton, 22.

Argentine Lause Wins Decision Over Tiger Jones

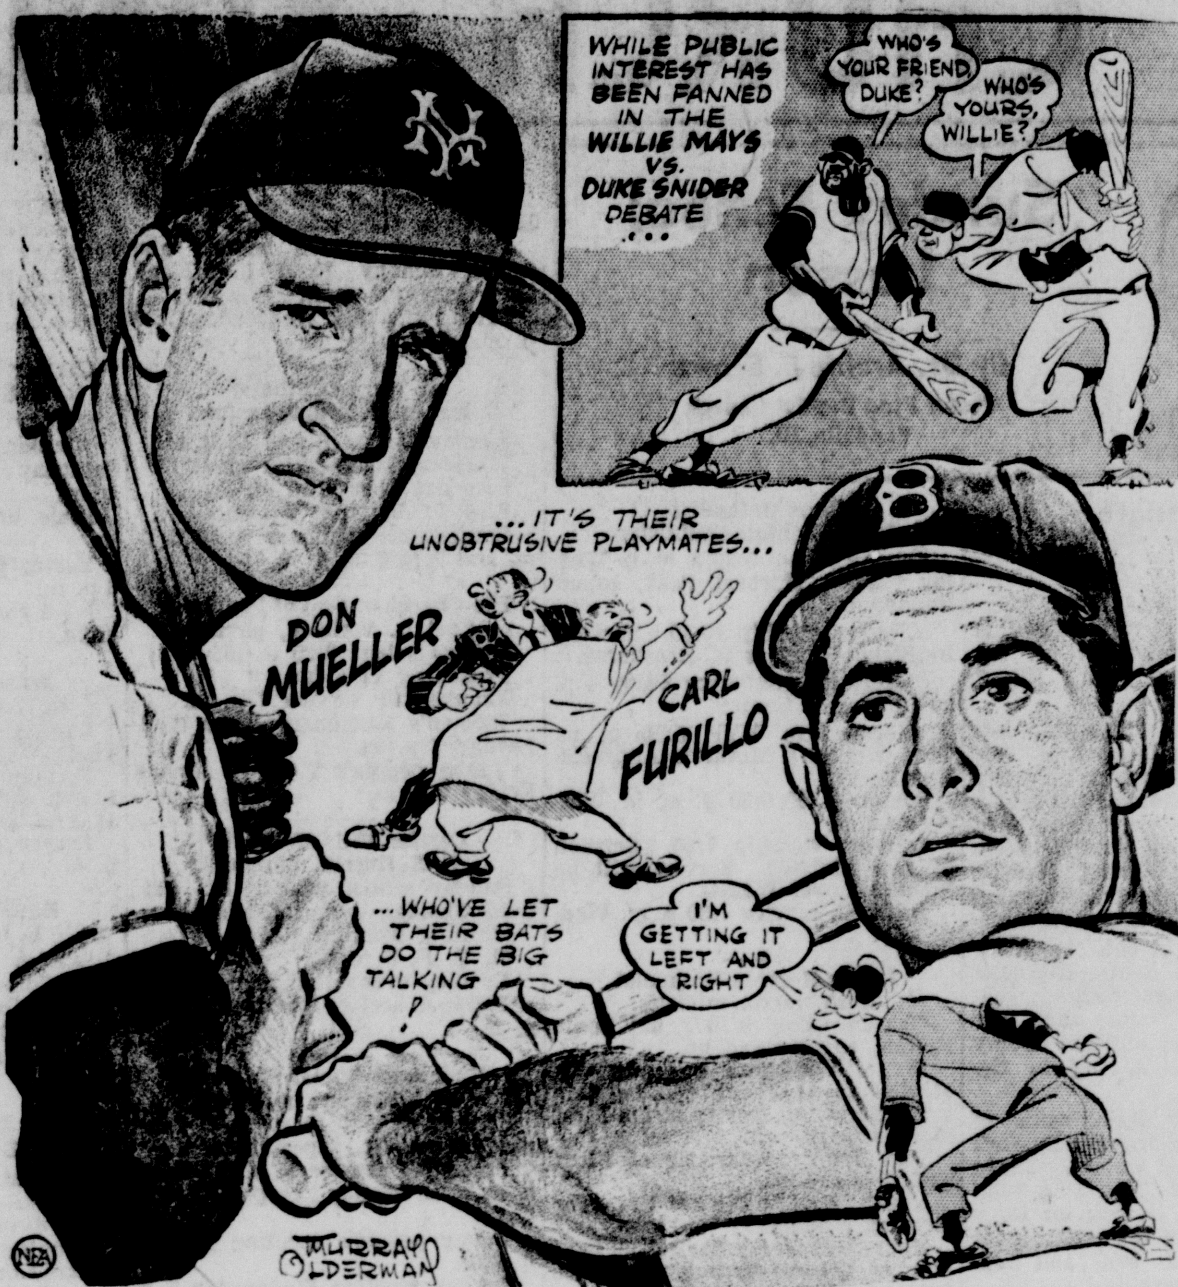

NEW YORK (AP)—New York fight fans and living room experts through the nation today were promised a rematch "in about seven weeks" between middleweights Eduardo Lause of Argentina and Ralph (Tiger) Jones of Yonkers, N. Y., after one of the best bouts here in years.

Lause, hailed as the greatest puncher to come out of the Argentine since Luis Angel Firpo, battled to a unanimous 10-round decision over Jones Friday night in a nationally televised and broadcast bout at Madison Square Garden. Each weighed 157 1/2 pounds.

It was a "blood bath" from start to finish, with Lause providing all the blood. The Latin larriper required 30 stitches to close two separate cuts over his left eye. Despite these wounds, Lause came on strong in the late rounds to gain the decision and extend his winning streak through 28 fights.

Only 2,819 turned out for the first boxing show at the Garden since March 25, but the fight was so well received by the small crowd that matchmaker Billy Brown promised to give Jones another crack at Lause sometime in July. The grim-faced Argentine will need that much time to nurse his facial cuts.

Butler Blames Administration in Vaccine Program

CLEVELAND (AP)—Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler charged today that the Eisenhower administration is taking no effective action "to assure fair distribution" of the Salk anti-polio vaccine.

Butler said the administration has "mishandled" the program and that Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby, secretary of health, education and welfare, has worked out a "haphazard distribution system of the new discovery" with doctors and drug manufacturers.

Butler made a stinging attack on the administration's health, education, housing, conservation and what he called "giveaway" programs in an address to the Federated Democratic Women of Ohio. He said Democrats should not leave Mr. Eisenhower on a "pedestal, ruling out realistic debate of political issues whenever it touches the Chief Executive."

Marciano, Cockell Finish Training For Bout Monday

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Rocky Marciano and Don Cockell of England finished training today for Monday night's heavyweight title fight as a poll of California's five-man boxing commission confirmed that they would use a 16 1/2 foot ring at Kezar Stadium.

The first three votes received were against attempting to change to a larger 20-foot ring, requested by John Simpson, manager of fast-footed Cockell.

Before Friday's clarification session here in San Francisco, Manager Simpson had promised to appeal to authorities as high as President Eisenhower if Cockell was denied the 20-foot fence. But after the opinion, he said, "Well, I guess there's nothing we can do but fight in the 16-foot."

Later, growing angrier by the hour, Simpson said, "I'll make no comment now. But I'll let the American public be the judge of whether Don got a square deal from the commission. Why, even some of the American sports writers are expressing their sympathy for us."

California rules permit rings to range 16 feet to 24.

Mantle Hits Three Homers As Yankees Win, 5-2; Mays' Homer in 10th Trips Cards

By United Press
Leo Durocher still insists Willie Mays is the greatest player in the game but he had better not broach that subject — especially today — within earshot of Casey Stengel.

The Yankee manager staunchly feels his own Mickey Mantle rates No. 1 and he has a particularly fine talking point in the three tremendous homers Mantle blasted during a 5-2 victory over Detroit Friday.

But Durocher could point to Mays' timely 10th inning homer that gave the Giants a 4-3 triumph over the Cardinals and kept them undefeated on their current western invasion.

Stengel undoubtedly would cite the fact Mantle had a perfect "four-for-four" day and drove in all the Yankee runs, but Durocher would counter that each of Mays' three hits figured in a Giant run and, besides, Willie is out-hitting Mickey, 330 to 289 at the moment.

Yielded Three Hits
Southpaw Eddie Ford yielded three hits before retiring with a blister on his pitching hand after seven innings. Tom Morgan preserved Ford's fourth conquest with a hitless job over the last two frames.

Mays' homer, his seventh, came on a change-up thrown by southpaw Harvey Haddix, who suffered his fifth setback even though striking out 10 men. Johnny McCall who took over for starter Don Liddle in the third inning, limited the Cards to two hits and one run the rest of the way in posting his first victory.

The Dodgers snapped a two-game losing "streak" with a 6-2 triumph over the Milwaukee Braves. Billy Loes registered his fourth victory, scattering seven hits, one of which was Del Crandall's second-inning homer.

A walk and three singles produced two Brooklyn runs in the fourth inning off loser Bob Buhl and Junior Gilliam's fifth inning homer knocked him out of the box. Humberto Robinson took over and was mugged for two more runs in the fifth on a walk and Roy Campanella's sixth homer.

Winning Run Forced
Tom Gorman walked Billy Goodman with the bases full in the ninth to force in the winning run in a 4-3 victory by the Red Sox over the Athletics. Kansas City Manager Lou Boudreau protested the game when after an hour and 23 minute delay, the game was resumed while the rain was still falling. Willard Nixon started for Boston but veteran Ellis Kinder came into the game in the ninth and registered his first victory.

Rain, wet grounds and cold weather caused four postponements. The games between Cleveland and Washington and Chicago and Baltimore were wiped out in the American league while the Philadelphia-Cincinnati and Pittsburgh-Chicago games were postponed in the National.

'Uzziah's Strength And Failure'

II Chron. 23:5; 16:21
GOLDEN TEXT: "The Lord is in His holy temple; let all the earth keep silence before Him." (Habakkuk 2:20).
INTRODUCTION: The ship left New York Harbor in April of 1939. People on board were from many nations, and all seemed to be in a gay mood. They were homeward bound. Bands were playing. People were talking, dining, playing games and, in general, enjoying the air of gaiety of that moment.

The second night out, the order came to douse the lights. Big guns were mounted and pointed seaward. Word had come that war had been declared and that enemy submarines were lurking in the nearby waters.

There came the hissing sound of a torpedo making its way through the night-darkened waters. There was an explosion. The ship soon began to list as it took on thousands of gallons of sea water. That night the ship was sunk and hundreds of lives were lost.

A voyage that had begun with gaiety, laughter and hope, ended in tragedy.

How like so many lives today! Many times a young man or woman starts life full of hope, and ends that life years later in sorrow or tragedy. This lesson today gives us the life's story of just such a man.

I GOD PROSPERED UZZIAH (V. 3-5)

Uzziah began his reign when only sixteen years of age and reigned fifty-two years. He "did that which was right in the sight of God." (V. 4). "As long as he sought the Lord, God made him to prosper." (V. 5).

Uzziah had good, God-fearing parents. (What a wonderful privilege for any child to have such parents.) He had the wise counsel of a God-fearing friend, Zechariah, who had "understanding in the visions of God." (V. 5).

God prospered Uzziah in many ways, because he followed the Lord's will. What a wonderful example for any man today!

II UZZIAH MIS-USED PROSPERITY (V. 16-18)

"Pride goeth before the fall." This Proverb was never more true than in the case of Uzziah. Verse 16 begins: "But when he was strong, his heart was lifted up to his destruction." He became so obsessed with his power that he thought that he could take the place of the priests in the temple. He said, by his actions, that the State had power over the Church. Now, God never has intended this to be so today. There must be separation of church and state.

Verse 17 tells us that the Priest, Azariah and 90 priests of the Lord went after Uzziah to try to get him to refrain from acting the part of a priest. He refused to listen. Thus came his downfall.

III UZZIAH PUNISHED (V. 19-21)
My! what a sudden end to what promised to be an illustrious life! While the priests were talking to Uzziah to try to get him to do right, he became angry. He was burning incense unto the Lord. In that moment he was stricken in the forehead with leprosy. He was cast from the temple. He lost his kingdom, and his son, Jotham, reigned in his stead.

CONCLUSION: Every good gift that you have come from God. Your home, job, friends, money, abilities—all came from Him. If you have more than others, you owe more in the way of thanks and appreciation unto God. Never become proud of what you have or what you have accomplished. Self-pride will lead to destruction. "Praise God from whom all blessings flow."
